Next visit will be the Dubai Museum housed in the 150-years old Al Fahidi Fort. In the Museum, we will see interesting artefacts, which throw light on Dubai’s historical links with trading and the pearl diving.

After the museum, guests will head down towards the Bastakiah area – the oldest part of the city, guests will have the opportunity to see the Wind Towers which served as air-conditioners in bygone days. The narrow lanes of Dubai's Bastakiah district are home to art galleries, breezy cafes and authentic Arabic restaurants.

Gain a greater appreciation of Dubai’s culture and customs at the Sheikh Mohammed Centre for Cultural Understanding (SMCCU). Since opening in 1998, the SMCCU has been helping visitors get a better understanding of the culture and customs of the UAE. Seeing the location itself is worth the visit – it’s a beautifully restored wind tower house in the historic Al Fahidi Historical Neighbourhood. Take a seat on Bedouin-style carpets and pillows while you enjoy a selection of dishes and your local host answers questions about life in the emirate. With its motto ‘Open Doors, Open Minds’ – all questions are welcome and answered, no matter how sensitive they are.
